

Think on These Things

“What are you going to do today?” This harmless question, when asked by a loving family member, can sometimes cause the heart rate to increase, the pulse to quicken, and the mind to race. Why? Because sometimes the one asked has not laid out any specific plans for the day and does not wish to appear unproductive or lazy, by responding: “Oh, nothing.”

Why feel guilty about having no plans for the day? Because today is the only day that one has in which to do something. Yesterday is done, so nothing can be added. Tomorrow may not come, as the Bible reminds us, and if it does, we don't know what will happen (James 4:14a) Therefore, we should make today count. We all certainly need a break from time to time. We shouldn't load up each day so that we are so busy that we don't take time to spend with the Lord in worship, prayer and study of His Word. Nor should we allow the “busyness” of life to keep us from living the life that God has planned for us to live or to enjoy the things that He has provided (beautiful skies, sunrises, sunsets, etc.) Our Lord Jesus was never in a hurry, never overwhelmed, never rushed, and He never dragged His feet, either. He lived each day in the power and strength of God the Father taking time to spend with His Father and with people.

Lord, please help us to be good stewards of today, to use this day wisely, and not to forget that You are with us through every moment of this day. “For what is your life? It is even a vapor that appears for little time and then vanishes away.” James 4:14b

Something to think about as we go about our day.

Love and blessings,

Trace
